Team Update August 5, 2013

Dear Scholars Inn Bakehouse Cycling Program Sponsor, Supporter, Friend, Participant,

It's been an extraordinary mid-season campaign for your cyclists on the Scholars Inn Bakehouse squad. The local development team continues to exert its dominance on the Midwest while representing itself as one of the most respected and visible teams in the area. We currently have over 60 cyclists across 5 categories including 12 women. Visit us at <https://www.scholarsinncycling.org/>.

Since the start of the competitive season, we have combined for over 155 results including 9 first place finishes (6%) and 57 top-ten finishes (37%). Our formidable results are in direct proportion to your generosity and support, allowing these athletes to test themselves each weekend at competitive venues across the region by supplementing some of the expense of racing. For that we are grateful.

Total	First	Top 3	Top 10	Field
155	9	22	57	90
	6%	14%	37%	58%

In addition to the Scholars Inn Bakehouse development team, we are well into our first year's commitment to the Category 1 Elite program; Panther Cycling presented by Bakehouse Granola. This top-tier regional team has already posted several victories and podium finishes at some of the Midwest's most prestigious elite venues and provides a landing pad for the development program's top cyclists. Follow panther/Bakehouse here:

We generally meet as a team on the last Thursday of each month at the downtown Scholars Inn Bakehouse at 8:00pm. You have an open invitation to join us. We are also on Facebook. Follow Scholars Inn Bakehouse cycling here:

weekly reach of over 176 readers. We also compete year-'round! Join us as we present the season opening race for the Ohio Valley Cyclocross series at Karst Farm Park on September 15, 2013. Visit the series here: <http://ovcx.com/>.

In addition, we host and participate in Bloomington's well attended weekly training programs including; published Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday training rides and every other Tuesday time trials. These local events often attract between a dozen and fifty+ riders from the community for each event.

Thank you again for your support. It is a pleasure to earn your respect and represent you each time we race or ride our bicycles.
